

Dinner at Moana

Charming women, brave men, brilliant music, elaborate decorations and a delicious menu were the essentials of the dinner given by Mr. John H. Bliss in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond de B. Lazard, in the private dining-room of the Moana hotel on Tuesday evening. Miss Nannie Winston, who was hostess, met the guests on the broad lanai and Mr. Bliss conducted them to the little tables where cocktails and caviar were served. Promptly at seven-thirty Mr. Bliss escorted Mrs. Lazard up the winding staircase to the private dining-room, where the beautiful and artistic table was set. Hundreds of mauve and pink chrysanthemums in the shape of a battleship—the smoke stack looking as natural as possible—and the bow and stern most exquisitely outlined with maidenhair ferns, formed the central decoration. Pink shaded electric lights softly glowed on the miniature deck and she proudly bore aloft the American and English flags. Maidenhair ferns and those of a larger growth were scattered over the cloth and, at each place were hand-painted cards and envelopes which held personal skits. These were read during the progress of the dinner by Governor Carter and Mr. Lazard amidst much laughter. Dainty menu cards enclosed in casings of Hawaiian straw were very pretty, and the quintet club played and sang behind the palms in the outer room. After dinner the guests played cards in the private dining-room, engaged for the occasion. Mrs. Lazard wore a most becoming frock of white lace and satin and her ornaments were diamonds and pearls. Miss Winston was also in a white charming lace frock and her collar of gold and emeralds suited perfectly. Mrs. C. W. C. Deering was in a pale green Princess, the sleeves being a tone of green green, with lace bertha of old rose pink. On this rested large diamond wings, the central jewel being a square topaz pendant surrounded with diamonds. On her head was the latest thing in ornaments. Mrs. F. H. Humphris' exquisite costume of white satin and chiffon was very French. The quaint pointed bodice with little white flowers in the corsage and in her hair were most effective. Mrs. George Carter's handsome white frock suited her to perfection and Mr. Arnold Pike's rich toilette of apricot-colored satin and real lace collar was much admired. The Princess gown which became Mrs. Avery so well was composed of white embroidered flowered chiffon over tulle and silk, and the touch of pink and blue introduced, added to the dainty effect. Mrs. Henry Lewis' charming black and white Princess creation was very effective and Mrs. Alexander Scott wore a most attractive frock of pale yellow and the quaint neckline of dull gold, pink and white pearls and aqua marines was lovely. Miss Jessie Kaufmann's frock of blue was dainty and becoming and Mrs. Hawes was in white and silver spangled silk net. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond de B. Lazard, in whose honor the dinner was given; Governor and Mrs. George Carter, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. C. Deering, Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Humphris, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Pike, Mrs. Avery, Mrs. Alexander Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Hayes, Jr., Miss Jessie Kaufmann, ex-Governor Clegg, Mr. Richard Wright, Dr. Fitzgerald, Dr. Sheldon and Captain Heit.

At Home and Dance

Mrs. Campbell-Parker was at home on Wednesday afternoon in honor of her daughter Muriel's birthday and as a complimentary recognition of the Hawaiian Independence Day. Queen Liliuokalani occupied the most prominent position in the drawing room, and she was surrounded by the flower of the Hawaiian aristocracy. She made a magnificent appearance in a black Battenberg lace bolero over black satin, and she wore some choice jewels. Mrs. Campbell-Parker received her guests with the dignity and grace for which she is famous, and she looked exceedingly handsome in a black embroidered crepe de chine. Every body was gorgeously attired and the rooms were literally a bank of flowers. Little tables were arranged on the lanai and a delicious repast was enjoyed consisting of salads, sandwiches, tea, cakes, coffee, tea and champagne punch. Mrs. F. W. Macfarlane, looking very pretty and Mrs. J. Nawahi assisted in receiving the guests.

On Friday evening Miss Muriel Campbell gave a delightful dance at the Waikiki residence. The Quintet Club played brilliantly and the gay young people danced to their hearts' content. Miss Campbell was born in London on the Hawaiian Independence

Day and the dance was given in honor of the event. The young hostess, who is a dainty blonde, wore a blue crepe frock. Among those invited were: Misses Anabelle Low, Matty Holt, Ada Mutch, Dorothy and Marjorie Freeth, Kaul Wilcox, Fanny Moir, Ethel Bishop, Fanny Stevens, Ethel Monsarrat, Fanny Miles, Maude de Bretterville, Alice Spalding, Ennice, Lila and Josephine Pratt, Agnes Buchanan, Ella Wight, Adele de Lartigue, Hattie and May Lucas, Florence and Margaret Shipman, N. Wilcox, Hilda Robertson, H. Akana, Bella McCriston, Alice Hedemann, Gwendoline Jakins, Rena and Alleen Bertelmann, Makia Ma-goon, Genevieve Langton, Callie Lucas, Carol Low, Orma Boyd, Lydia Ma-goon, Flora Harvey; Messrs. Albert and Walter McDougall, Moses Heen, Robert Paris, Dan and Robert McCriston, Jack Guard, Jack, George, William and David Desha; Harold Dil-lingham, Arthur Watson, James Win-ne, Stillman, Ora Wall, H. P. O'Sullivan, Douglas Damon, George Freeth, Nelson Lansing, Alfred Smythe, Wil-liam and Robert Chillingworth, Bruce Cartwright, William Dickson, Erling Hedemann, Bert Peterson, Conrad Ahrens, Wm. Campbell, Paul de Bre-toville, Cushman Carter, Larrie Ma-goon, Frank Wright.

Koolau House-Party

The Swansy's entertained a house party at Koolau Thursday at their ranch house on the banks of the Oahu Pacific. The old trees in the grounds gave ample shade and the house looked out upon one of the most picturesque views on that side of the island. On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Swansy entertained for forty at dinner in honor of the hostess' birthday. The guests were all relatives, and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed. The Judd-Swansy connection is a large one, and the guests at that house of relatives only have frequently been nearly one hundred. Mrs. Swansy is one of the most hospitable hostesses in Honolulu, and her entertainments are endless.

Witherlies Visit

Among the arrivals in the Korea were Mrs. William Witherlie and Miss Anna Witherlie, a sister and niece at Mrs. Sanford B. Dole, from Castine, Maine. The sisters have not met for many years, and the Doles are delighted that the Witherlies have consented to remain for a visit of many months. Castine, Maine, was Mrs. Dole's old home and it is one of the old aristocratic parts of New England, which has attracted many celebrities to its picturesque shores.

Engaged

Miss Daisy Lishman received forty of her most intimate lady friends yesterday afternoon. The reception was held at the Lishman house on Keeaumoku street. Tables were set on the lawn and the refreshments were delightfully served. During the afternoon the engagement of Miss Lishman to Mr. Harry Scott Grey was announced.

Dinner and Bridge

The charming dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy on Wednesday evening was much enjoyed. The tables were banked with red carnations and maidenhair ferns. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. McCandless, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hedemann, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Klamp, Captain and Mrs. Andrew Fuller, M. M. Phillips and Mr. Derwent Kennedy. Bridge was played after dinner.

Dance at Moana

The Moana Hotel gave a gay and brilliant dance on Monday evening. It was a very exclusive affair and the drawing room was comfortably filled throughout the evening. There were many little dinners preceding the dance. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. C. Deering were dining the Russells and Paymaster Cope of the Albatross had as dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Brooke. There were many tables filled with strangers and they all joined in the dance.

The Toy-Shop

Everybody is anticipating The Toy Shop this evening week, and, judging from the rehearsals, it will be one of the cleverest little pieces seen for a long time. The local hits are very amusing and no one escapes.

Everybody knows the object of the performance—for the Free Kindergar-ten and Children's Aid Society is a pet charity in Honolulu. The seats are go-ing wonderfully well, and the boxes are expected to be filled.

Mackall Concert

The concert which Mrs. Mackall gave at the Alexander Young on Tues-day evening was a distinct triumph, and called out a large and fashionable audience. Mrs. Mackall's numbers were rendered with the exquisite taste and finish for which she is famous in the East as well as here. Mrs. Ingalls also gave great pleasure to the audience and everybody knows what a perfect accompanist Mrs. Tenney Peck is. Dr. and Mrs. Mackall will reside in Honolulu, the Doctor having severed his connection with Kahuku plan-tation.

Birthday dinners seemed all the rage this week, and the one given by Mr. and Mrs. Ranney Scott in honor of the host's birthday was a charmingly informal affair. Eight guests were seated at the pretty table, and they were Dr. and Mrs. Brinkerhoff, Misses Jessie Kaufman and Marion Scott and Messrs. Dorby and Wright.

Mr. and Mrs. Fifeid, who are guests at the Moana Hotel, intend to remain a few weeks in Honolulu. Mr. Fifeid is interested in the Tabasco Planta-tion.

Mr. and Mrs. Renton, who have been away for some time, returned in the Alameda.

Society is certainly entertaining this season and there have been an un-usual large number of balls, large dinners

Helene Irwin will visit her aunt, Mrs. Edward Moore Robinson, in Philadel-phia this winter, and it is possible that Mrs. Robinson will introduce her hand-some young niece to the fashionable Philadelphia set. The Irwins are at present in Europe, but expect to sail shortly for New York. They plan to arrive in San Francisco on the heels of the New Year, by which time the re-pairs on the Irwin mansion will be completed.—News Letter.

Thanksgiving evening was one of the old fashioned sort with plenty of rain, but it did not dampen the ardor of the numerous diners who would not think themselves correct unless they did duty to the traditional turkey, cranberry sauce, and mine pies. Family dinners were all the rage and nearly everybody with a home dined somebody without one.

A Shave Day

The average English gentleman, and many of other nationalities, will not be content without shaving every morning. Objections have been made to the annoyances which follow such frequent attention to the face. With a GILLETTE SAFETY RAZOR there is no unpleasant after-effect for the reason that the blade is always keener than in an ordinary razor. We have the Gillette and the extra blades as a Christmas treat.
